

Racial Harassment Policy

This policy gives details of the kinds of behaviour which the school regards as racial harassment. There are professional duties governing teachers' responses to such behaviour which is regarded as unacceptable in the light of the school's Statement of Aims and the Racial Equality Policy.

The Race Relations Act of 1976 makes it unlawful to discriminate on racial grounds. The Act places a legal duty on the Local Authority and school to provide services without discrimination and to promote equality of opportunity. In addition, the Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000 places general and specific duties on schools and the LA. Schools must promote good race relations and must work to prevent racist incidents before they occur through effective policies and practices. This is further reinforced by the Equality Act of 2010 (Chapter 2, section 26) from which the DfE summarises the definition of harassment as follows:

'Unwanted conduct, related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating a person's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that person'.

The above covers unpleasant and bullying behaviour, but potentially extends also to actions which, whether intentionally or unintentionally, cause offence to a person because of a protected characteristic.

Definition of a Racist Incident

The Stephen Lawrence Inquiry Report recommended that the Police, local government and other relevant agencies should universally adopt the following definition of a racist incident:

A racist incident is any incident which is perceived to be racist by the victim, or any other person.

Incidents will be reported to the Senior Leadership Team and dealt with in an appropriate manner. Parents of those pupils who are found to be involved in a racist incident will always be informed. The details of all incidents and sanctions used will be recorded in CPoms. Heads of Year will be informed and involved in dealing with the incident. The frequency and nature of any recorded incidents will be reported to the Pastoral Leadership Team.

Practice

Members of staff at Churchdown School will promote a sense of respect for the diversity of cultures both in Britain and the world in general. Staff will dissuade pupils from behaving in any racist manner through the curriculum, informal discussion and, if necessary, the use of sanctions.
